SOFT ENAMEL

Each design is stamped into copper. The recessed areas are then filled with plastic-based enamel. A thin metal line must be used to separate each color. We can match any color and up to four colors are included in the price of the pins. You may have your pins plated in gold, silver, copper, antique gold, antique silver, or antique copper at no additional cost. The pins come either with or without a clear epoxy coating at no additional cost.

HARD ENAMEL

There is no substitute for the classic look of Hard-Fired Enamel, an ancient Chinese art developed more than 6,000 years ago. Each design is stamped out of copper and then the recessed area are filled with enamel and fired at a very high temperature, bringing the enamel areas level with the metal. This produces a jewelry quality pin with a high degree of detail and color. Each pin is highly polished to a brilliant luster and smoothness. A thin metal line must be used to separate each color. We can match any color and up to four colors are included in the price of the pins. You may have your pins plated in gold, silver, copper, antique gold, antique silver, or antique copper.

SILKSCREEN / OFFSET

Choose our silkscreen pins when your design requires fine lines and detail in specific colors rather than in the metal. Each design is screen printed directly on to brass. The pin is polished and then an epoxy dome is applied to protect the finish.

DIE STRUCK

Elegant for the sophisticated image of an all-metal pin, the die struck process offers sharp detail, contrast and relief. Instead of using color, the raised areas are highly polished and the background-recessed areas can be textured. You may have your pins plated in gold, silver, copper, antique gold, antique silver, or antique copper.
